

Free EEI Curriculum Training

Hosted by the San Francisco Estuary Institute

Come learn about the Education and the Environment Initiative (EEI), a free curriculum that teaches critical-skills in science and history-social science using the environment as a lens.

Enjoy hands-on activities from the EEI and the CA Coastal Commission, and enjoy a scientist-led tour of the Hoffman Marsh.

Date: Tuesday, July 17, 2018

Time: 9:00 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.

Cost: Free!

Where: San Francisco Estuary Institute

Address: 4911 Central Avenue, Richmond, CA

Registration: Please register by July 8, 2018.

Register by clicking here or copy and paste this address:

<http://survey.sogosurvey.com/k/SsSYROsQROsPsPsP>

For more information contact:

Lucy.Christensen@CalRecycle.ca.gov

In this training, we will highlight:

- The EEI Curriculum's history and the state's vision for environmental literacy.
- How the EEI Curriculum helps students build critical 21st century skills such as problem solving, communication and collaboration.
- Common Core and Next Generation Science Standards support.
- How you can order your very own free EEI Curriculum units.
- Receive free California Coastal Commission Educational Materials and explore hands-on activities.

A tour of the Hoffman Marsh will follow the training.

